DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 09/26/2007 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 2-9, 18-20, 23-24 and 26-28 are currently withdrawn (see previous office actions mailed 10/06/2005 and 02/23/2006). This includes newly added claim 28, which depends from previously withdrawn claim 3. Applicant must correctly label these claims with the proper status identified (Withdrawn).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gosney et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,010,506).

Gosney et al. disclose a bone fixation nail (FIG. 1) comprising: a longitudinal axis, a longitudinal bore, and three transverse bores each defining a longitudinal axis; wherein each of said longitudinal axes defined by said three transverse bores is non-parallel and non-intersecting with respect to both of the other of said longitudinal axes of said transverse bores, the transverse bores having an essentially circular cross-section; wherein the longitudinal bore is capable of receiving a bushing-like or sleeve-like member; and wherein the transverse bores are configured so as to define a different spatial orientation and a position in three dimensions of a member inserted through each transverse bore.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Huebner et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,472,444).

Huebner et al. discloses a bone fixation nail (FIG. 2) comprising: a longitudinal axis, a longitudinal bore, and three transverse bores each defining a longitudinal axis, wherein each of said longitudinal axes defined by said three transverse bores is non-parallel and non-intersecting with respect to both of the other of said longitudinal axes of said transverse bores, the transverse bores having an essentially circular cross-section; wherein the longitudinal bore is adapted to receive a bushing-like or sleeve-like member; and wherein the transverse bores are configured so as to define a different spatial orientation and a position in three dimensions of a member inserted through each transverse bore.

Art Unit: 3733

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 11-17 and 21-22 are allowed.

Response to Arguments
